

STGi Wins HR Contract with United States Marshals Service

ALEXANDRIA, VA, April 28, 2011 – STG International, Inc. (STGi), a provider of strategic human capital solutions to the federal government, has announced that they have been awarded a new contract with the United States Marshals Services (USMS) supporting the Human Resource Division (HRD) with grievance adjudication support services.

USMS Human Resource Division is responsible for the administration, review and evaluation of workplace grievances filed by bargaining unit and non bargaining unit employees. USMS officials and supervisors are required to process grievances in a timely manner in accordance with Federal law and Department of Justice/USMS policies and grievance procedures to ensure that employees' rights and concerns receive fair consideration. STGi will assist HRD with fact-finding services in relation to grievances filed by bargaining unit/non-bargaining unit employees. STGi also will support the USMS HRD with the preparation of draft employee-relations (ER) disciplinary or performance-based proposal and decision letters on an as-needed basis.

"We are extremely excited to have another opportunity to provide services to the U.S. Marshals Service" stated Michelle S. Lee, President and CEO of STGi. "We are eager to hit the ground running and provide outstanding service to our new client."

STG International, Inc. (STGi) is a woman-owned minority business, founded in 1997 to provide human capital management, medical, and professional services to Federal and private sector clients. Dedicated to the Human Mission, STGi proudly supports the nation's most fundamental imperatives which includes Head Start training and technical assistance, medical care for Soldiers, and government-wide recruitment, among others. Learn more by visiting www.STGInternational.com.

Media Contact:

Christine Runton

media@stginternational.com