

STG International, Inc. President & CEO Selected as Finalist by The Greater Washington Government Contractor Awards

Alexandria, VA—September 7, 2007 --- Michelle S. Lee, President and CEO of STG International, Inc., a nationwide provider of professional, medical, and technical services to the federal government, was named an Executive of the Year Finalist by The Greater Washington Government Contractor Awards. The identities of finalists were revealed at the Finalist Reception held at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Tyson's Corner, Virginia on September 6, 2007.

The Greater Washington Government Contractor Awards are the region's premier celebratory event honoring pioneering companies, industry heavyweights, and established leaders of the government contracting industry. The awards are presented by Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce's Northern Virginia Government Contractors Council (GovCon), the Professional Services Council (PSC), and Washington Technology Magazine.

Ms. Lee was among five executives selected as finalists from companies with revenues between $75 and $300 million. Her inclusion in this category is testament to STG International's meteoric growth over the past ten years. Ms. Lee founded STG International in 1997 in the basement of her home. She has grown the company today into a multi-million dollar enterprise, spanning two thirds of the country, with more than 1,400 employees. She credits her expertise in recruiting, retaining, and motivating superior employees as key to her success. Her mission is to "invest the time to understand customers' requirements and provide professional services that enable each one to successfully deliver on commitments to support health, security, and the general well being of citizens." She is committed to not only serving the greater Washington, D.C. community, but also every community that STG reaches, which includes 36 states and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.
