

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Michelle S. Lee Serves as a Featured Speaker on Diversity at Ernst & Young Discussion Panel

ALEXANDRIA, VA, November 30, 2010 – STG International, Inc. (STGi) announced today that CEO Michelle S. Lee was invited to be one of four featured panelists at a recent Ernst & Young discussion panel. The Ernst & Young panel took place on November 8, 2010, and focused on diversity and its impact on Pan Asian professionals. The evening included networking and an interactive discussion among the panelists as well as discussion with the audience. The Ernst & Young panel on diversity was designed to create a dialogue on the large and small scale impacts of diversity in everyday communities.

“Diversity is important because it creates an understanding of a world beyond that with which we are immediately familiar,” said STGi CEO Michelle S. Lee. “There are still challenges, but as diversity becomes ingrained in people’s overall understanding of the workplace, it will be seen more and more in a positive light.”

Ms. Lee also spoke about leadership, stating that “One key trait for a leader of any background, but especially for Asian women, is the willingness to take calculated risks.”

Other panel contributors included Christine Yamamoto and Ritu Furlan, both partners at Ernst & Young, as well as Clement Chen, Senior Vice President and Group Director for Strategic Planning at SAIC.

Ernst & Young is a global leader in assurance, tax, transaction, and advisory services and employs over 141,000 people worldwide. Committed to promoting shared values and quality, Ernst & Young encourages its people, its clients, and the communities it serves to achieve their potential.

About STGi

STG International, Inc. is a woman-owned minority business, founded in 1997 to provide human capital management, medical, and professional services to Federal and private sector clients. Thanks to steady, exponential growth, STGi now employs more than 1,700 professionals in 38 states and territories, with headquarters in Alexandria, VA, and additional offices across the country. Dedicated to the Human Mission, STGi proudly supports the nation’s most fundamental imperatives; including Head Start training and technical assistance, medical care for soldiers, and government-wide human resource initiatives, among others.

CONTACT: Jessica Semon, media@stginternational.com, (703) 385-8178 ext. 220

**###