STG International Hires New Leader

--Rick Montoya is named new Vice President of Government Relations--

Alexandria, VA - December 21, 2007 - STG International, a firm providing government organizations with mission-critical and staffing services, is proud to announce Rick Montoya as the newly appointed Vice President of Government Relations. With experience spanning over 35 years at the executive level in Federal and State government, Mr. Montoya will guide the company's Government Relations Department by developing strategic growth plans and establishing new market initiatives.

"Mr. Montoya has skillfully leveraged his knowledge of governance into building a profitable healthcare services practice and combining it with cutting edge Information Technology to capture large multi-million dollar Government Wide Acquisition Contracts, such as GSA Connections for his former company. He's an expert in the government sector and we are proud to have him on our team." says Michelle Lee, Founder, President and CEO of STG International.

"I am thankful for the opportunity to be a part of the STG International family. Their innovative and unique approach to solving government agencies staffing issues is world-class. I'm excited to be able to play a key role in helping drive the future of the organization," says Rick Montoya.

Prior to joining the STG International team, Mr. Montoya held a position at the Department of Interior, where he was responsible for setting US policy for the territories of the United States. He also served as co-chairman of the US-Saudi Arabian Joint Economic Council and was a member of the US-Japanese Bi-lateral Commission on Aviation. Mr. Montoya has served as President Ronald Reagan's Personal Representative charged with negotiating a 15 year funding compact with the Northern Marianas and as the Senior Advisor to Texas Governor Bill Clements on the topics of immigration, international affairs and economic development.
