STGi Expands Services for Early Childhood Education with the Addition of Consultant, Dr. Guylaine L. Richard

A subject matter expert, new author, and distinguished speaker expands services offered for STGi's Head Start employees and Head Start contracts.

ALEXANDRIA, VA, December 13, 2010 – STG International, Inc. (STGi) announced today that Dr. Guylaine L. Richard, an Early Head Start Advisory Board member, will be offering her consulting services through the company. She will be providing training and consultation to Head Start and early childhood programs in the areas of organizational development and program quality.

To supplement the consulting services, Dr. Richard has recently written and published a resource titled, Right from the Start which serves as a guide to early childhood education workers who provide support to pregnant women and their expectant families.

“Dr. Richard’s experience and expertise in the Head Start field will be tremendously valuable asset to our clients,” says Myra G. Crouch, PhD., Director of Education and Technical Assistance Programs at STGi. “We are very proud of Dr. Richard’s contributions to the early childhood education community, including her new book and persistent commitment to quality and program development.”

Dr. Richard has more than fifteen years of experience in Head Start and Early Head Start as a fellow, director, Training and Technical Assistance (T/TA) provider, reviewer, start-up planner and continues to serve the Head Start community in various capacities nationwide. Dr. Richard has also had the distinct privilege to be recognized as a National Head Start Fellow, where she developed new project initiatives for the Health and Disabilities Branch, and represented the Family and Youth Services Bureau in research and health initiatives with other Federal agencies.

She is also the owner of RichardEtc, LLC, an early childhood education consulting firm located in Boynton Beach, Florida. She has devoted her life to improving the lives of others and brings a broad perspective from public health issues to those in early childhood settings.
